

Leadership Breakthrough

Growing leaders for tomorrow's challenges

Organisations take on the personality of their leaders – this is why leadership development is essential. Leadership training and development can maximise productivity, shape a positive culture and promote unity. To achieve this, key people must lead individuals and teams using an engaging leadership style.

Altitude's Leadership Breakthrough Program brings psychology and leadership together to create more effective leadership teams and organisations. Our Leadership Breakthrough Program consists of six workshops with intensive experiential learning that introduces participants to team leadership and proven systems that will contribute to their success as a leader.

Altitude's Leadership Breakthrough Program entails:

- Understanding the keys to exemplary leadership
- Inspiring a shared vision
- Shaping a positive workplace culture
- Building peak performance teams
- Coaching and developing others
- Receiving 360 degree feedback on their leadership performance
- Understanding the "hot buttons" that motivate and inspire their people.
- Creating an action-learning environment where leaders grow and develop beyond the program
